foundation special

All about the base

Everything you need to know to get your foundation right

It's the product that promises to increase radiance, dial down redness, blur imperfections and deliver flawless, even-toned skin. But we all know it has its pitfalls too – especially as we get older. Pilling, patchiness, sitting in wrinkles, shade confusion... there's a lot to contend with. That's why Beauty Director Rosie Green and A-list make-up artist Ruby Hammer have teamed up to create this foundation-buying guide, complete with application tricks to achieve that flawless finish. Don't go shopping without it!

How do I make sure it's the right colour?

The right shade is critical to a natural-looking base. Here's how to find yours... Always look at it in daylight rather than department store light. Don't be afraid to nip outside to have a look. Try it on the cheek, where you are going to put it, not the hand or the neck. Don't let the sales assistant blend, blend the colour into oblivion either. With today's sheer formulations you can make practically any colour fit, so you have to be bold enough to ask them to stripe it on and then have a look. Leave the product on your skin for half an hour as it will change as it oxidises. Also, remember that you will be different shades in summer and winter. And although unlikely, there's a chance you may have to mix colours to get it spot on.

YOUR SKIN TYPE

- ✦ You will know if your skin tone is fair, medium or dark but do you know if your undertone is warm, cool or neutral? For a perfect match, you need to make sure your foundation has the same undertones as your skin.
- ✦ If your skin gets pink and the veins in your wrist are blue, then you have cool undertones.
- ✦ If your skin is golden or olive and your veins are greenish, then you are warm-toned.
- ✦ If you have both golden and pink tones, and you suit both gold and silver jewellery, then you have neutral undertones. >>
